Lawrenceville Has Quite a Duo

It is rare when you get two players that complement each other the way Eliza Becker and Nikki Rivera do at Lawrenceville.

"They are both leaders and mean a ton to the team," said Big Red coach, Lisa Ewanchyna. "They are very similar in their drive and heart, but they are also very different, stylistically."

Rivera is the speedster, very athletic and very quick to react to field situations. Becker is the steady player that quietly goes about her business getting the ball to her teammates in the best possible position to score.

"They both are fun and dynamic players to watch," Ewanchyna said. "I am truly saddened they will both be graduating this spring. Not just because of the hole that will be left on our field hockey team, but because they are both really top people. They are amazing leaders for a coach to rely on."

Trentonian Top 10

1. Peddie — You get points for holding Eastern to four goals.
2. Hopewell Valley — The Bulldogs are going to be tested the next couple weeks.
3. Lawrenceville — This is a team that seems to be getting better.
4. WW-P North — Don't underestimate the underclassmen on the Knights.
5. Robbinsville — The Ravens are winning with a team effort.
6. Hightstown — This is going to be a team that is going to get better with the tough test ahead.
7. Allentown — The Redbirds are slowly, but surely hitting their groove.
8. Hun — The Raiders get a good test with Stuart next week.
9. Stuart — The Tartans have won two straight.
10. Princeton — The Tigers deserved to be ranked just for surviving Robbinsville, Allentown and Hopewell Valley.
